Creative Solution

Many household products such as paint, solvents, automotive fluids, pesticides, fertilizers and cleaning products are dangerous to handle and require special collection and disposal to prevent pollution that is harmful to people and the environment. You cannot safely toss household hazardous products into the trash (with the exception of dried up latex paint with the lid off) or dump them down the drain. They must be taken to a local household hazardous waste facility and disposed of properly.

Making the least hazardous products available to the public is a great way to keep these products out of the waste system.

Non-profit organizations and King County residents can save money by picking up free items at the ReUse Store. Using up leftover household hazardous products that have already been manufactured and purchased is a sensible way to recycle them. It is less expensive, requires fewer disposal resources, and saves more energy and labor costs than manufacturing new products.

Don't Buy New, Reuse!

Reusing products that others no longer need is just good common sense. Now, the ReUse Store makes it easy for you to find and reuse certain household products instead of purchasing them brand new. And best of all, it's absolutely FREE!

Many household products are available at the ReUse Store including:

- Latex and oil-based paint, stain and primer
- Wood care products
- Cleaning products (i.e., bleach, toilet cleaner)
- Automotive products (i.e., oil, antifreeze, wax)
- Environmentally friendly fertilizers and pesticides

There are quantity limits on some products, such as motor oil. Please keep in mind that the quantity and type of items available vary greatly. The ReUse Store is open to all King County residents and non-profit organizations. Businesses and contractors are not eligible to shop at the ReUse Store.

Disposing of Household Hazardous Waste

Household hazardous waste products are not accepted at the ReUse Store. The ReUse Store only provides a location to pick up free products.

If you have leftover household hazardous waste products such as paint, solvents, automotive fluids, pesticides, fertilizers and cleaning products that you would like to discard, you must take them to a local household hazardous waste facility.

More Information

Call 206-296-4692 or 1-888-TOXICED during business hours or visit www.govlink.org/hazwaste/house/disposal/ for information on how and where to dispose of your household hazardous waste. Residents outside King County should call their local county household hazardous waste agency for disposal information in their area.
